THUNDERBIRDS, from page 8

was named the recipient of the Thomas Ebright Memorial Award for outstanding career contributions in the AHL over his three decades in professional hockey. McDonald joined the St. Louis Blues organization in 2001 and has overseen the Blues' AHL affiliates for the last 17 seasons.

Highly regarded for his professionalism and tireless dedication, McDonald quickly forged a strong partnership with the Blues' new affiliate, the Springfield Thunderbirds. He worked through a challenging 2021-22 season – one impacted again by the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic – to ice one of the most successful teams in the long history of AHL hockey in Springfield. There is perhaps no greater testament to McDonald's impact this season than the fact that players who suited up for the Thunderbirds skated in a combined total of 249 NHL games with the St. Louis Blues during the 2021-22 campaign.

“Kevin has been one of the most highly respected executives in the AHL throughout his career, and we could not be happier to see his hard work recognized league-wide,” said Costa. “He is the ultimate professional, an outstanding evaluator of on-ice talent, and an even better person. We join the rest of his peers in congratulating him on a much-deserved honor.”
